Assignment

Ans 1. Because of that is installed on your system often desired to type Git -- version if you are curve version of git then git is installed

Ans 2. With the help of the command git init, we can initialize a new repository in the git.

Ans 3. By using the git config --global username we set the name and By using the git config -- global useremail we set the email.

Ans 4. By using git add file name we can add or using git add. we can add all file

Ans 5. By using the git ~~command git~~ git rm ~~method~~ we can remove the file

Ans 6. By using the git commit -m "first" we make a commit

Ans 7. By using git push we can send the changes to a remote repository

Ans 8. Clone means make a clone of our Repo. Pull means pull the file from Repo clone means Copy Pull means ~~take~~